

This state is in serious trouble. Poor economic judgement, irresponsible spending, overly generous state employee benefits, and entitlement spending control are root causes. 2nd from the bottom fiscal solvency, in the top 5 of possible welfare payments for individuals-no wonder that people with decent incomes are fleeing the state ,while we gain more state dependents. Industry doesn't want to be here ,let alone small businesses. I tell young educated people to go elsewhere to live-get out of New England-go where you can keep more of what you earn without a millstone around your neck. I told my high school and college student patients the same. When I moved to Ct it was in the black-Grasso and O'Neil took care of that.
